

Project Learning Day
July 20, 2013
Iowa County Fair Grounds
Session 1- 9:00 – 10:00

DAIRY “Prepare for Fair!”

Learn what it takes to be prepared for the fair! The sessions will be taught by older youth exhibitors and 4-H Dairy volunteers. Practice the perfect top line and review how to show your calf. Bring all your fitting equipment—clippers, halters, brushes, and sprays for hands-on practice with calves. These sessions will count as an educational program for the auction. This session is a three hour program; you must attend all 3 hours for an educational credit. Presenters: Sean & Angela Brown, Assist: Zach Tolzman

BEEF “Prepare for Fair!”

Come and learn great step-by-step plans for getting your animal and yourself ready for the fair. The information presented will be great for youth with experience exhibiting and for those showing beef for the first time at the fair. There will be a beef animal there used for demonstration. This session will count as an educational program for the auction. This session is a three hour program; you must attend all 3 hours for an educational credit. Presenters: Youth Livestock Committee

SWINE “Prepare for Fair!”

This session will begin by teaching you what you need to do in order to be ready for showing your swine at the fair, explain daily care, discuss showmanship techniques, review auction requirements, and give you helpful hints on how to have a successful sale of your animal at the fair. This session will count as an educational program for the auction. This session is a three hour program; you must attend all 3 hours for an educational credit. Presenters: Youth Livestock Committee and Jarred Searls

GIS + GPS = OPPORTUNITY

Discover new ways of thinking about geographic positions, using tools (like GPS, GIS, maps, and globes) and identifying locations. Learn to use GPS units to complete a technological treasure hunt. Part of this session will be outdoors so please dress appropriately. If the weather is absolutely miserable we will cancel the hunt, but it will be replaced with other fun GIS activities. (Limit of 10) Presenter: Rick Vinger

ORIGAMI

Ever wondered how people create those adorable origami projects? In this session, you will learn the fine art of origami. I will teach you a little background of this age-old art. At the end of this session, you will be able to take a piece of paper, fold it, and create your own origami masterpiece. Limited to 6 participants. Lara Daentl - presenter

GETTING TO KNOW YOUR SEWING MACHINE

If you enrolled in the 4-H Clothing project, join us for this session. We'll learn about all the parts of a sewing machine and what they do. We'll also share some useful “notions” that can make your sewing easier. You are welcome to bring your own machine to learn about the parts but we won't actually be doing any sewing in this session. (Limit of 12) Presenters: Donna Grunewald & Ruth Schriefer, Assist: Diana Dochnahl

INSECTS ARE INTERESTING!

Are you enrolled in the Entomology project, or do you simply have an interest in insects? Come and learn about the different parts of an insect and the difference between complete and incomplete metamorphosis. You'll also learn how to properly collect, pin, and identify insects. Participants will be able to see the largest moth, the heaviest insect, and a variety of tropical insects from around the world. If you are brave enough, you may even get the chance to hold a live Giant Madagascar Hissing Cockroach! (Limit of 8) Presenter: Alex Harmen

FAIRYTALES RETOLD (GRADES 3-5)

In the short story “Cinderella,” the Brothers Grimm write, “When [Cinderella] ran down the stairs, her left slipper stuck in the pitch. The prince picked it up.” Have you ever wondered what would have happened to Cinderella if someone else would have picked up the slipper before the prince did? Would she ever after been ruined?

In this session, you will learn how the smallest details can change a story; for instance, maybe, the dwarf Grumpy simply had a stomach ache and wasn't actually grumpy. How would a different character tell the story? What would Little Red Riding Hood's grandma say? Presenter: Brianna Jentz

Session II - 10:00-11:00

CERAMICS

In this session you will paint a simple ceramic item and have a finished project to take home with you. Paints, a simple project and brushes will be provided. This project is also eligible for a special class at the fair! All ages are welcome. (Limit of 15) Presenter: Verna Batchelor

CLOVERBUDS "Let's Take Some Pictures!"

Hello, Cloverbuds! Have you ever looked at a photograph and thought, "Gee, I wish I could do that!" Well, here is your chance to learn the photography basics that will help you when enrolling in the Photography Project someday real soon. Join Paula, Lyrica & Lara Daentl as they give you tips and pointers on how to take creative and fun photos. Every Cloverbud enrolling in this session needs to bring a camera that they know how to use, for we will be taking a lot of photos. These newly learned skills will have you saying, "Gee, I snapped that photo!" Cloverbuds are asked to bring an inexpensive, easy to use digital camera with them. Iowa County 4-H and UW Extension will not be responsible for broken or lost cameras. (Limit of 12) Presenters: Paula, Lyrica, & Lara Daentl

CREATIVE ANIMAL STORIES (GRADES 6-8)

From Old Yeller to The Black Stallion to Charlotte's Web, animal stories are fascinating to read and to tell. These books and many other animal stories are successful because the author paints pictures, using words, of the animals and their habitats that stick in the readers' mind. This session will explore the concepts of word choice and concrete imagery as the basis of creating detailed descriptions. Learn how you can make your favorite animal come to life on paper! Presenter: Brianna Jentz

Session III 11:00-12:00

CLOVERBUDS - TIE PILLOWS

Make and take your own tied pillow. Fleece tied pillows are an easy and fun project. Materials will be provided. Come and make your own pillow to sleep with or exhibit it at the fair. (Limit of 25)

CERAMICS

In this session you will paint a simple ceramic item and have a finished project to take home with you. Paints, a simple project and brushes will be provided. This project is also eligible for a special class at the fair! All ages are welcome. (Limit of 15) Presenter: Verna Batchelor

DESIGN YOUR DREAM ROOM

Pick a room. Any room! It's time to plan a "make-over". Which room in your home would you like to decorate? You'll create your own swatch board with flooring samples, trim samples, furniture and curtain material swatches, paint, or wall coverings. We will have lots of materials to work with but it would be REALLY helpful if you have pictures of colors, furniture, accessories or lighting from magazines, catalogs or brochures. You can even bring along a picture of the room so as it looks right now so we can see the "before" and after! (Limit of 10) Presenter: Ruth Schriefer

RESUME AND COVER LETTERS (Grades 9-13)

Are you looking to apply to a job, university, or program? Are you ready to apply for scholarships? Even if you haven't needed to write a résumé or cover letter yet, you will have to soon. These documents are the first impression that you give to future employers or decision committees, so it is very important that they look and sound professional. Come learn how to effectively create documents that highlight your experiences and accomplishments. Presenter: Brianna Jentz

TRACTORS! TRACTORS! TRACTORS!

Are you looking forward to driving a tractor? How well do you know your tractor? If you are going to be a tractor driver you have to be able to do more than turn a key and steer. Learn more about how a tractor works, its parts, and some basic tractor safety. Presenter: Jon Ostendorff

Dear Iowa County 4-H Community,

First off, I want to thank you for welcoming me into your community as the Iowa County 4-H intern. I am really looking forward to learning and growing as an individual through this opportunity, and I cannot wait to meet everyone and to share in the joy of helping students experience the wonders of the world through education.

As a recent graduate from UW-Platteville, I know that my successes as a double major in English and history can be somewhat attributed to my participation in 4-H as a member of the Blake's Prairie Bombers' 4-H Club in Grant Count. One of the highlights of my summers growing up was participating in the annual Blake's Prairie Fair in Bloomington, WI, so it was only natural that one of the first history papers that I remember writing was about the early years of the fair. Writing this paper showed me how powerful education and human relationships are to building a community. My love for 4-H and writing, especially about history, has only strengthened since then. One of my favorite experiences as an undergraduate was traveling to the National Archives in College Park, MD to research an American deceptive task force, called the "ghost army," that was active in the later years of World War II.

Looking over the summer schedule filled with opportunities to work with many youth and families, I couldn't help but fondly remember raising crossbred Suffolk sheep, listening to my camera rewind after I filled a roll of film, and adding stitch upon stitch to my latest cross-stitch design — all three examples of the projects that I started through 4-H. I can remember how excited I was when my photo "Kendra and Lambert" was selected as one of the top ten at the 2005 Wisconsin State Fair and what it meant to me to be asked to help teach a craft session at the Grant County 4-H Cloverbud Day when I was in high school. In a way, this internship feels like coming home because I am returning to a program that helped to shape how I view the world.

In addition to 4-H, I have also taken advantage of my other opportunities. In fall 2010, I studied abroad and lived in a palace in Dalkeith, Scotland, which is approximately six miles away from Edinburgh (thirty minutes driving time). Following my study abroad experience, I found my niche at UW-Platteville when I was hired by Writing and Tutoring Resources (WATR) as a writing tutor for the Writing Center, and later I served as an intern editor for Stylus: An Anthology of Freshman Writing, which is a collection of essays used in teaching English composition classes. Upon completing my undergraduate degree, I was hired by WATR in a professional role where I help with the Peer-Assisted Learning Program, the Writing Center, and Stylus during the regular academic year. All of these opportunities have reinforced the importance of education to me, and I cannot wait to share my love of learning as the 4-H intern.

As I work alongside Deb Ivey and other 4-H agents, my summer will be filled with traveling to the 4-H & Youth Conference, visiting 4-H camp, chaperoning trips, attending 4-H sponsored events, etc. and above everything else, I will be promoting the importance of knowledge and service.

If you ever have any questions, comments, or concerns regarding the 4-H program, please don't hesitate to stop by the office and see me. Feel free to email me at uwintern@iowacounty.org or call me at 608-930-9850.

Once again, I am super excited to be part of the Iowa County 4-H community!

All the best,

Brianna M. Jentz

Summer 2013 4-H Extension Office Intern
